BOB WORTHINGTON: "What the council has done is vicious"

By DAN PHILLIPS

daniel.phillips@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A SCHEME providing leisure activities for the over 50s across Harlow has been disbanded in the wake of council cuts.

Harlow Council's decision to withdraw administrative support for Active Retired from April was branded a disgrace at the group's annual meeting.

Members who packed into Abercrombie Barn for the meeting agreed to form a new group – Harlow Re-formed Activities – in its place.

"Our members really are fuming," said chairman Bob Worthington. "What the council has done is vicious."

"We're angry at the way pensioners have been treated. Every party makes promises for us but then they don't do what they say."

Members of the new group will have to deal with applications and membership cards themselves, as well as collect subscriptions.

Mr Worthington said: "We're bending over backwards to keep this going. Our treasurer is in hospital and he's been making telephone calls from his hospital bed to help set this up."

"We've never done this before and we know that there will be mistakes."

Scheme member Ron Tull (82) said: "The council ought to be proud to be associated with Active Retired but they've washed their hands of us. We raise lots of money for

Workmen dig up remains of 'rare' Roman building

THE remains of a Roman building have been found on a site in Harlow which is due to become a children's playground.

Archaeologists have confirmed that tiles, pieces of pottery and bricks uncovered by workmen at Larkwood date back to Roman times.

Archaeologist Sarah Mounce said: "It's rare to find a Roman building. No one was expecting it as all the Roman remains in Harlow have been the other side of town."

The full size and purpose of the structure is not yet known as only its eastern edge has been revealed.

But Chris Lydamore, from The Museum of Harlow, who visited the site yesterday said: "The discovery helps complete a picture. Clearly we have evidence here of occupation, irrespective of whether it is a bathhouse or a kiln. That itself is useful to know."

"There are various clay pits around here and we know that the area was used for pottery much later. Now we know it was being used in a similar way over many years."

The discoveries were made during the construction of a play area as part of the regeneration of Prentice Place. Contractor Wessex Archaeology will be working on the site to found out as much as possible before it is covered up again and protected in situ.

Letter from Robert Halfon, Prospective MP

Dear Reader

When I am out and about knocking on doors, some people ask me: "why on earth do you want to be a politician, what is it that you stand for?" Well, over the next few weeks in the run up to the election, I want the chance to set out to you why it would be a privilege to serve as Harlow's next MP.

Those who will have met me, will know that I have a walking disability, but managed to overcome it with the help of loving parents. My father - thankfully - refused to believe some doctors who told him that it would be hard for me to lead a normal life. I was actually very lucky that a Consultant at Great Ormond Street Hospital, gave me the first of a number of operations as a child, that enabled me to lead a normal life.

But my experiences have given me an understanding of the difficulties people face. I came into public life to make a difference. I love Harlow and the villages, but I want to help make our area an even better place to live.

Whenever I speak to residents they say the same thing: We've paid our taxes so why aren't there police on the streets? Why is our local NHS under threat? Why does Gordon Brown take away £13 million of our social housing money every year? Why is our countryside and green belt threatened by over-development? Why can't we get a grip on our immigration system? Why can't we have better discipline in our schools?

If you elect me to serve Harlow and the surrounding villages, I will fight for the things that really matter to local people:

1. Harlow Housing Money for Harlow people. Stopping Gordon Brown taking Gordon Brown takes £13.5 million of our housing money every year. Harlow's housing money should be for Harlow people. Just imagine what £13.5m could do if it was spent in our community.

2. Fed up with Harlow Traffic. We desperately need a new northern relief road and extra bypass to the M11. Labour have done nothing in 14 years. Now is the time for action. Go to www.fedupwithharlowtraffic.com

3. Protecting our NHS. Princess Alexandra Hospital and our local GPs provide an excellent service. I am fighting against Gordon Brown's cuts to regional A&E and maternity services which will put pressure on our NHS in Harlow.

4. Improving Education and Skills. Improving Harlow's literacy and numeracy standards. New Educational and vocational training opportunities. 200,000 extra apprenticeships over 2 years (1,000 extra in Essex alone) and 100,000 extra places at Further Education.

5. Restoring Harlow's economy after Gordon Brown's recession. High debt, High spending, high taxes, high unemployment have become the hallmark of Labour. We need to cut the debt and move to a low tax, economy.

I can't promise you to change these things overnight, if I did, you wouldn't believe me anyway. But I will guarantee you one thing. I will work hard for the values all of us share: decency, integrity, duty, compassion for those in need, and doing the right thing. Let's give people a fair deal. I hope very much that you will work with me to make a difference.

P.S. If you would like further details, please see: www.roberthalfon.blogspot.com or www.roberthalfon.com

Banning order bars drunken thug from every pub in town

A MAN from Harlow has become the first in Essex and only the third in the country to be given a Drinking Banning Order.

The order imposed on Wesley Jones (23), of Guilford, by magistrates on Tuesday means he is now barred from entering 48 pubs, bars and clubs across the town and prohibited from consuming alcohol or being drunk in a public place for a total of 18 months.

The ban could be reduced by six months if he agrees to attend an optional alcohol awareness course. But any breach of the order could result in a heavy fine or even imprisonment.

Sergeant Lewis Basford, of the Harlow Neighbourhood Policing Team, said it sent a clear message that violent anti-social behaviour would not be tolerated.

"Wesley Jones is a persistent offender who continually committed violent crime having consumed alcohol," he said. "Alcohol-fuelled offending causes misery to the general public who wish to drink moderately in our licensed premises."

During the past six months, Harlow police have secured a crack house closure, two anti-social behaviour orders and a number of anti-social behaviour contracts.

Superintendent Simon Williams said: "We will use every tactic available to us and partner agencies to reduce anti-social behaviour in our communities and keep safe those who wish to enjoy the night-time economy."

County's snow summit

ESSEX County Council will next week host the UK's first snow summit.

Delegates from across the country will gather at Stansted Airport on Wednesday to assess the performance of local authorities during one of the harshest winters in recent years and discuss new and innovative ways.

The snow summit, which has a string of top speakers from industry, Government, service users and the Swiss highways division, will provide a forum for discussion and debate.

Secretary of State gives a heads up on education

EDUCATION Secretary Ed Balls visited Harlow to discuss the Government's long-term education agenda with local teachers and school governors.

The former special advisor to Gordon Brown spoke about his experiences within government and highlighted improvements in education in Harlow over the past 13 years as well as looking ahead to the construction of a new university campus and the increasing number of students passing GCSEs.

More than 60 education professionals attended the event on Thursday which was hosted by local MP Bill Rammell at Harlow Study Centre.

Mr Rammell said: "I was delighted to welcome Ed to Harlow to talk with teachers and governors about achievements in education and the Government's education agenda for the next decade.

"Our schools have been transformed through hard-working teachers and the huge extra investment over 13 years we were previously denied.

"Labour is passionately committed to improving education and the life chances of young people in Harlow. This was demonstrated by the Secretary of State for Children, Schools and Families taking the time to come and speak to our education professionals."

charity and it keeps us fit and healthy."

Active Retired was formed 27 years ago by Harlow Council to offer a diverse programme of town-wide leisure activities for the older generation. However, subsequent administrations have gradually scaled back involvement until financial support was stopped some years ago.

Last month the Conservative-run council announced a freeze on its share of the council tax bill, promising to "put residents first". But this resulted in cuts in the authority's support for community groups.

Group members plan to present a petition calling for the cuts to be reversed to a meeting of the council next Thursday. And they have already received the support of Harlow MP Bill Rammell, who has vowed to fight for the scheme.

"It shows that Conservative councils cannot slash their budgets without cutting services which are most valued by local people," he said. "I strongly urge Harlow Council not to cut this valued scheme."

Councillor Tony Hall, chairman of the council's environment and community committee, said that over the years the group had become increasingly self-sufficient.

"Every other group in the town carries out this function themselves," he said. "The group has over 1,000 members so it has a very strong base on which to continue.

"We have heard the group has recently reformed and wish them well for the future."

A REGISTERED sex offender has been jailed after he admitted grooming a 15-year-old girl he met on the internet.

Peter May's offences came to light during a routine visit by officers from Essex Police's public protection unit.

May (48), who used to live in Harlow but now of no fixed abode, was being monitored by police having been given a suspended sentence in December 2008.

He was jailed for 28 months when he appeared at Basildon Crown Court on Thursday after admitting five charges of sexual grooming.

He also admitted breaching a suspended sentence for sexual activity in the presence of children.

Afterwards, Detective Constable Phil Merriam, of Essex Police's online investigation team, said: "During the visit the officers became suspicious and checked May's computer where they found indecent images of a child.

"May was later arrested and the girl was identified. It was found that he had met the girl online when she was 14 and groomed her into sending him indecent pictures of herself.

"He also sent her numerous pictures and videos of himself engaged in sexual acts.

"Knowing her age he later travelled to meet her, on a number of occasions with a view to forming a sexual relationship.

"May has co-operated with the investigation and it is satisfying to bring this repeat offender against children to justice without the need for a trial at which the victim would have had to give evidence."

May will be the subject of a Sex Offender Registration and a Sex Offender Prevention order.

Race is on for marathon pair

By SOPHIE WARNER
star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A COUPLE who first met while running will be taking part in next month's London Marathon to raise funds for St Clare Hospice.

Accountant Susie Morley (31) and her partner Jared Bethell (26) are both avid runners and members of Harlow Running Club.

"We actually met each other through running," said Susie, who works for Arrow Electronics, in London Road. "We decided we wanted to run the London Marathon and thought we might as well do it for a worthy cause."

However, they will have different strategies to complete the 26-mile challenge.

"We are complete opposites," said Susie. "Jared is a fast runner and I am a slow runner so he will probably be waiting at the finishing line for me for about three hours. It is like the tortoise and the hare!"

The couple, who live in Bishop's Stortford, are half way towards reaching their £3,000 fundraising target. To help them achieve their goal they are holding a clairvoyance evening with medium Susan De Vere in Harlow later this month.

In the meantime, Susie has been training hard and took part on the Silverstone Half Marathon on Sunday.

"When I'm not training I'm thinking about when I next have to run, washing my training kit or making sure that I'm eating the right foods," she said.

"I am so excited to be doing it and even though it is hard it makes all the pain worthwhile knowing that I am doing it for such a worthy cause."

Susie will be wearing a sunflower, the symbol of the hospice, in her hair when she runs the London Marathon which this year takes place on April 25. "I don't think I will be able to run in a big costume," she said.

The clairvoyance evening is being held at the United Glass Social Club in London Road, Harlow, on Friday, March 26 at 7.30pm. Tickets cost £12 on the door.

Cancer care charity's plea for help with daffodil fundraisers

VOLUNTEERS Dee Somerset and Emma Wilkinson were two of the team who raised hundreds of pounds for Marie Curie Cancer Care when they handed out the charity's daffodil badges to shoppers in Harlow.

Great Daffodil Appeal collections carried out in the town have so far raised in excess of £1,765.

The money will go towards the Essex Nursing Appeal which was launched last June with the aim of raising £450,000 to provide more free Marie Curie nursing in the county this year.

Fundraiser Nicky Hastler said: "Our nurses cared for almost 900 people in Essex last year but for every family we helped there were around three others that we couldn't."

The Great Daffodil Appeal runs until the end of this month and more volunteers are needed for collections taking place outside the Tesco store at Church Langley on Monday (March 22) and Tuesday.

If you are able to help, call Nicky on (01920) 468956 or email nicola.hastler@mariecurie.org.uk.

Buy a begonia to help good causes

MEMBERS of the Harlow Lions Club will be in the Harvey Centre today (Thursday) selling tubers of a scented begonia called Sweet Charity which has been specially propagated for the organisation.

The initiative, in conjunction with plant company Thompson & Morgan, aims to raise £250,000 for worthy causes nationwide.

The plants will be supplied and dispatched by the company to customers directly, with £3 from each sale in Harlow divided between three good causes in the town.

Managing director Paul Hansford said: "This new begonia really is something special and it is wonderful that this new variety will be raising money for good causes."

Harlow Lions Club will be selling the tubers for the rest of this month and next. To purchase one, call 0845 833 5742.

Wrestling treat for grapple fans

AN evening of wrestling will be held next month in Harlow in aid of The Prostate Cancer Charity.

Tickets are already on sale for the King of Xtreme wrestle-fest which takes place at Great Parndon Community Association on Saturday, April 24.

Organiser Keith Everest said: "It will be a truly entertaining show and help raise money for a cause that really matters."

Tickets are £5 and available from www.xpbwrestling.com.

Cop who lied on accident form is found guilty of perverting the course of justice

A POLICE officer who claimed he was driving when his uninsured girlfriend had an accident has been convicted of perverting the course of justice. Christopher Sheldrick (42), of Jocelyns, Old Harlow, stated on a form that he was behind the wheel of the car when it reversed into an unattended vehicle parked at The Oaks retail park in Harlow last September.

But witnesses reported seeing a woman driving the car before it left the scene.

Chelmsford Crown Court was told Sheldrick's partner, Sharon Mitchell, was only a learner driver and not insured to drive the car.

When interviewed about the consequences of putting down the wrong information, Sheldrick said: "I would lose my job, definitely".

The jury was told that when Sheldrick, who was based at Harlow police station before his transfer to the Met last year, contacted PC Georgette Beckett at Harlow to find out what the form related to he told her: "I've nothing to worry about because I wasn't driving at the time."

But giving evidence, Sheldrick said he could not remember the conversation. He also said he did not intend to mislead and denied he had taken a risk by putting his details on the driver notification form to avoid the insurance problem being revealed.

He claimed to have not noticed the collision, although his partner had told him she thought she might have touched a vehicle.

When the form arrived, he told the court he did not know which incident it referred to and failed to "put two and two together".

Sheldrick denied acting with the intention of perverting the course of justice but was convicted of the charge.

Judge Christopher Ball adjourned sentencing for two weeks pending information about the implications for Sheldrick's job and pension.

"I need to know how significant the impact will be on him for what is plainly an aberration, an absolute moment of madness, which has brought possible terrible consequences that I will weigh in the balance," he said.

Immigration officers raid house and café

ONE man has been arrested and two others face deportation after officials from the UK Border Agency raided two addresses in Harlow.

A 25-year-old man from Pakistan was arrested at a house in Kingsland on suspicion of immigration offences and money laundering.

He has been bailed to return to Harlow Police Station in June.

Officers also conducted immigration checks at the Tasty Grill, in East Gate, where a 27-year-old man from Pakistan was found to be working without permission, having overstayed his visa.

A 36-year-old man who was on the premises but not working was also found to have overstayed his visa and was detained.

Detective Constable Adam Rogers, of the UK Border Agency's immigration crime team, said:

By CHRIS MOSS

chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

"There are simple ways of checking a foreign national's right to work and there is no excuse for not checking the identity of those applying for jobs.

"We support and encourage employers to comply with the rules but when they fail to do so it is right that we crack down on them."

The owners of the Tasty Grill now have 28 days to provide the agency with evidence that the correct right-to-work checks were carried out or face a fine of up to £10,000 per illegal worker.

● Guidance for employers on preventing illegal working can be found on the agency's website at www.ukba.homeoffice.gov.uk/employingmigrants or by calling the UK Border Agency employers' helpline on 0845 010 6677.

Chloe's night out with the stars

A YOUNG dance student from Harlow rubbed shoulders with royalty when she accompanied celebrity choreographer Kevin Adams to a glitzy awards bash.

Chloe Ewing, who attends Kevin's new performing arts academy at Passmore's School, shared the red carpet with Prince Charles, Radio 2 DJ Chris Evans, actor Sir Michael Caine and singer Darius Danesh at The Prince's Trust Celebrate Success Awards.

Kevin, who lives at Church Langley, works as an ambassador for the charity and was asked to present an award at the ceremony in London's Leicester Square.

"I asked if I could take a student from the academy who has shown growth and promise in street dance, drama and singing and they said yes.

"Chloe was chosen and got to meet all of the stars as well as Prince Charles himself, who asked her about her time at the academy and how strict a tutor I was!"

Visual arts to the fore as town swings into spring

HARLOW will be swinging into spring later this month.

On Monday students from Harlow College will be decorating the windows of the former Burton's shop in Broad Walk with textiles, prints, fashion illustration, garments, photographs, prints and advertising designs.

On the same day Café Elite, in The Rows, is being transformed into Gallery Elite for a new exhibition of photos taken from 1980 to the present day by local photographer Dave Skinner.

The annual Harlow Primary Schools exhibition in the Gibberd Gallery takes place from March 27-April 17, on the theme of mythology and fantasy. Wool spinners, lace makers, rag weavers, knitters and wood turners will show off their skills in the Harvey Centre next Saturday (March 27) while youngsters will be able to bottle-feed newborn lambs from Pets' Corner.

Outside in the Water Gardens, there will be an exhibition on the theme of law and order.

Town centre development manager Richard Denney said: "This year, for the first time, we are concentrating our annual Swing into Spring effort on visual rather than performing arts.

"Creating two new events to add to the existing primary schools exhibition will help tighten the focus on Harlow as an artistic town."

HEALTH CHECK Focusing on local health issues in partnership with Princess Alexandra Hospital

New patient rights to start next month

NEW legally enforceable rights for patients are to be introduced in the NHS.

These entitlements include having the right to maximum waiting times for planned (elective) treatment and for urgent cancer referrals, or for the NHS to look for an alternative provider if this is not possible.

The entitlements have now been embedded in the NHS Constitution. From April 1, patients will have the legal right to start treatment by a consultant within 18 weeks of GP referral and to be seen by a specialist within two weeks of an urgent referral by their GP for a suspected cancer.

If this doesn't happen, the NHS will have to take all reasonable steps to offer patients a range of alternative providers.

Additionally, anyone aged 40-74 will have the legal right to an NHS health check every five years from April 1, 2012.

These new initiatives follow a three-month consultation of the NHS

Constitution held during the winter which asked local people for their views on how to give patients a greater say in their care and treatment in hospital.

Gerald Coteman, chairman of The Princess Alexandra Hospital NHS Trust, said: "The NHS Constitution spells out the values and enduring principles of the NHS which are already well established at Princess Alexandra Hospital.

"We welcome the new legally enforced entitlements. Our hospital is now seeing many patients within weeks when once they used to wait for many months.

"It is also interesting that nine out of 10 people who responded to the consultation supported the idea of the NHS Health Check programme – which assesses an individual's risk of heart disease, stroke, diabetes and kidney disease – becoming a right for all people aged 40 to 74.

"We believe that these are important areas which will go a long way towards improving the overall health of people in west Essex and beyond." Yvonne Blucher, the trust's executive director of nursing and patient care, said: "Much work has been going on at our hospital to ensure that waiting times have fallen. It is vitally important for all patients to be assured of speedy referrals from their GP to hospital consultants.

"We are introducing new and better ways to cut waiting times further and provide more choice and variety of treatment and care at the hospital all the time.

"We warmly welcome the pledges made in this Constitution and support the aim of the consultation to strengthen patients' rights further."

Don't ignore your prostate

IT'S something that men don't want to talk about. In fact, many men don't even know what and where it is. Yet cancer of the prostate kills one man in the UK every hour of the day.

March is Prostate Cancer Awareness Month and men are being urged to get to know more about their prostate and the related problems.

The prostate is a gland which forms a sort of doughnut around the urethra and helps to control the flow of urine out of the bladder. As men get older, the prostate often enlarges or grows form which, more often than not are harmless. The results include:

- having to rush to the toilet to pass urine
- difficulty in passing urine
- passing urine more often than usual, especially at night
- some pain in passing urine
- some blood in the urine

If you have any of the above symptoms you should see your GP. You may be given a blood test to measure your prostate specific antigen levels. If this level is slightly raised, your GP may invite you to return for a further test three months later.

Your GP may prescribe drugs to help relieve pressure on the urethra or you might talk about surgical procedures to cut away, burn away or freeze away parts of the prostate to relieve the pressure. These treatments are available at local hospitals.

In some cases, the growth may be cancerous, but even then patients may be unaware because they are having none of the above symptoms. Prostate cancer can also grow very slowly in older men and symptoms may remain mild. For others, the cancer cells may spread to bones and cause pain in the back, hips or pelvis.

If cancer is diagnosed, your condition will be monitored and you may be offered surgery and/or radiotherapy.

For more information go to www.prostate-cancer.org.uk

Symptoms of a 'silent' killer

OVARIAN cancer is created by abnormal and uncontrolled growth of cells in a woman's reproductive organs.

The cancer is called the 'silent killer' as there are a lack of symptoms in the early stages.

Any symptoms which do occur include stomach pain or a bloated feeling that is confused with irritable bowel syndrome. Ovarian cysts and non-cancerous growths also cause the same symptoms as ovarian cancer. Other symptoms include:

- loss of appetite
- unexplained weight gain
- swelling of the abdomen (stomach)
- pain during sex.

If you have these symptoms you should visit your GP who may give you a blood test for a protein that can be high in ovarian cancer.

The GP may also carry out an internal examination to check your womb and ovaries.

You may then be referred to a gynaecologist who may do further tests such as a scan of the pelvis. A sample of fluids may be taken to see whether there are any cancerous cells present.

Treatment normally involves surgery including a possible hysterectomy and may be followed-up with chemotherapy.

As the symptoms are 'silent' it is important for women to have a smear on a regular basis. Many thousands of cervical smears are read by specialists at the laboratories at Princess Alexandra Hospital every month. Early detection of cancers has resulted in more effective treatment and less drastic surgery for women.

It's your choice

THE Choose and Book service has been set up to make the whole process of making an appointment with a hospital consultant more convenient.

If your GP believes you need to come to hospital to see a specialist or to have a test or course of treatment, you can:

- choose which hospital or clinic you wish to go to (any NHS hospital and some private hospitals)
- choose the date and time of your appointment
- ensure that your appointment is securely booked – no chance of a letter getting lost in the post.

The service also allows you to:

- plan around existing appointments if you are undergoing treatment already
- fit your visit to the hospital in with other commitments at home and at work

- choose appointments that fit with your carer's schedule
- check the status of your referral and change or cancel your appointment over the phone or on the internet.

You can talk about treatment options and which hospital to choose with your GP. It also allows you to book your appointment before leaving the surgery or alternatively you can take an appointment request letter away with you with a unique booking reference number and password to book it yourself. You will be sent the place, date and time of the appointment and a few days later.

'Fake' phone bill leaves pensioner in state of shock

By SOPHIE WARNER
star@hertsexnews.co.uk

A PENSIONER has branded a charity representing the interests of the elderly "irresponsible" after its latest direct mail fundraising campaign left her shaken and confused.

Dorothy Pottinger (85) said she felt "sick to the stomach" after opening what she believed was a genuine telephone bill demanding payment of £600,199.63.

The letter was in fact a marketing play for Age Concern seeking donations to keep its national telephone advice line up and running.

But Mrs Pottinger told the Star: "I was very worried and shocked when I received the letter. When I become worried about things it goes straight to my stomach and makes me feel ill."

The fake bill contains several authentic-looking stamps and logos along with the word "URGENT" printed in block capitals.

Although the small print at the foot of the letter states the telephone bill is not genuine, Mrs Pottinger, who lives in the Passmores area of Harlow, said she was no able to read it without the aid of glasses.

"It makes me want to give Age Concern a ring and ask them what the hell they are playing at sending out letters like this," she said.

"I think the charity has acted irresponsibly and has certainly gone the wrong way about asking for donations."

Michelle Mitchell, charity director for Age Concern and Help the Aged, said the mailshot was designed to highlight the costs associated with running the advice line and apologised for the distress it had caused Mrs Pottinger.

"The purpose of including a mock telephone bill in our recent mailing was to demonstrate the cost of this invaluable service to the charity and to highlight the need for donations to help us continue running it," she said.

"The charity regularly sends fundraising mailings to supporters and potential supporters. We try to be creative to ensure that our mailings are as effective as possible, but we apologise if we have caused anyone confusion or distress."

Mum's the word for cookery tots

TODDLERS at a Harlow day nursery cooked up some treats on Monday when they were joined by their mums for a Mother's Day baking event.

Tots at Kiddi Caru, in Kiln Lane, tucked into mouthwatering cookies and exotic fruit salads after making the sweet treats with help from their mums.

Nursery manager Kelly Walker-Reid said: "It was a fantastic day and the children were so excited to have their mums there to help out in the kitchen."

"The mums really enjoyed working side-by-side with their children and the kids obviously loved making a mess with the cookie dough! It was the perfect way to celebrate Mother's Day."

Pair are prosecuted for urinating in the street

TWO local men who were caught short in London's West End have been fined for urinating in the street.

Jeff Tee (55), of Harris House, Cawley Hatch, Harlow, and David Wright (48), of Overhall Farm, Gilston, were among 13 defendants who were prosecuted for relieving themselves in public following a crackdown by Westminster City Council.

Both were given a 12-month conditional discharge and ordered to pay a £158 fine by Westminster magistrates on Thursday.

The crackdown, which started in November last year, was masterminded by Westminster Council's strategic director for city management, Dr Leith Penny, who branded the defendants' actions as deplorable and unacceptable.

"I hope these court cases send a very clear signal to visitors to our area that we will not tolerate such behaviour," he said.

"In Westminster we provide more toilets than any other part of the capital and there are thousands of bars, nightclubs and restaurants, all with toilets people can use before they leave."

"Not only is it offensive and unhygienic to urinate in the street, it costs a small fortune to clean up the mess and get rid of the putrid smell which seeps into brickwork and paving."

Health trust 'one of best places to work'

THE primary care trust responsible for the majority of healthcare provision in Harlow has been ranked as the highest placed public sector health organisation in the Sunday Times' best places to work list.

A survey commissioned by the newspaper showed staff working for NHS West Essex cared for each other, went out of their way to help each other and felt a strong sense of family. It also said they cared about providing a great service and were proud to work for the trust.

Catherine O'Connell, chief executive of NHS West Essex, said: "We are delighted that we have done so well in this important national assessment of how people feel about their employer."

"The survey results are a tremendous credit to our staff whose constant efforts and dedication have made NHS West Essex an organisation that people are proud to work for."

Stop smears and stick to policies

SIR, From reading last week's letters pages in the Star it is apparent that the General Election campaign is well underway in Harlow – at least the Labour Party's campaign anyway!

I have long hoped that elections would be fought on the basis of policy and ideals rather than spin and innuendo, so you can imagine my dismay in reading the letters from Messrs Johnson, Bill, Newens and Nadin.

I have no axe to grind on behalf of either Bill Rammell or Robert Halfon and, in due course, I will examine the policies offered up by both their parties and make a decision based on what I believe to be the best set of proposals for the country.

I have met both men and found them to be well informed and, in particular, keen to understand the issues that their (prospective) constituents face. I have great respect for both of them.

Please may I, therefore, urge all parties contesting the election to refrain from thinly disguised attempts to smear their opponents and, instead, to treat the electorate with some respect.

Letters such as those written by the aforementioned gentlemen attacking Mr Halfon and insinuating that he is the direct beneficiary of dodgy funds do nothing to enhance either their reputations or those of the party they (apparently) support.

I accept it is right, proper and indeed healthy that our Parliamentary candidates should be examined both in terms of their records and policy stances, but I cannot accept that it is right to attempt to slur the character or name of a candidate.

Instead of trying to undermine the character of an opposition candidate, why not focus on trying to communicate your own party's policies and how they differentiate your party from the rest? You never know, it

Distraction from the real issues

SIR, I know it is election time but I have to say the smears from Labour Party activists greatly sadden me.

It seems clear that their actions have two purposes: firstly to distract attention away from Bill Rammell's own disappointing role in the MPs' expenses scandal and secondly as an attempt to distract from the serious issues in Harlow.

I do thank them for one thing: they have given me a chance to respond in a straight manner to fair-minded readers.

Regarding donations to Harlow Conservatives, it is well known that donations above £500 are declared by law to the Electoral Commission and published on their website for all to see.

Unlike Mr Rammell, I don't get expenses or thousands of pounds of taxpayers' money to spend on literature. Therefore, we have to raise funds in order to produce leaflets to set out our message to voters.

The only donation local Conservatives have ever had from Lord Ashcroft's company was over five years ago. It was declared perfectly proper and lawful by the Electoral Commission. It seems astonishing to many that Labour get so worked up about this, yet they turn a blind eye to their own donations of up to £10.5m from non-domicile taxpayers.

So why is it Labour members try to smear rather than discuss the serious issues? I think we all know the answer to this as well.

After 14 years of Labour governments one in five Harlow children are living on the breadline in workless families, according to the charity Save the Children.

Harlow also has massively higher rates of infant mortality than most other towns in Essex, nearly double the rate of nearby Chelmsford. Alcohol mortality is higher in Harlow than anywhere else in Essex.

Violent crime nearly doubled in Harlow between 2001 and 2009 and burglaries were up by 25 per cent in the same period.

As Harlow Renaissance reports, unemployment has climbed to 5.3 per cent – around twice that of west Essex.

Of course my opponents would rather these things were swept under the carpet but the public, correctly, will not allow this to happen.

Local residents have a right to discuss and debate issues that matter to them, even if it does make uncomfortable reading to some.

Support for Tory candidate is legal

SIR, Is it just coincidence that the letters from the Rev Dennis Nadin and Ron Bill (Star, March 11) are published together or is this another concerted attack on Robert Halfon?

Readers will note that no mention has been made as to the funding given by Labour peer Lord Paul, who is also a 'non dom' and is under investigation for claiming £38,000 overnight expenses.

However Robert Halfon gets his financial support, one thing is 100 per cent certain – it is legal.

Why not ask the same questions of Bill Rammell and also where the money has come from for the move of the Labour Party's regional headquarters to Harlow?

Our politicians are not messiahs

SIR, The Rev. Dennis Nadin reflects well the cynicism and disillusionment currently rampant in British politics (Letters, March 11). This is due largely to the unrealistic and excessive expectations that many people have with regard to politics itself. Sometimes it's difficult to accept that the world will not be put right by politics. Politicians are not messiahs.

The Americans fell into this trap last year when Barack Obama promised: 'Yes we can'. That euphoria is now a thing of the past as people are now not so sure or are even starting to say: 'Maybe we can't'. Politicians are often tempted to over-promise and sometimes a gullible electorate have believed them. Now we need a reality check.

In some senses I myself am one of the few, firstly on account of being a committed

property search is streets ahead
www.homesnow.co.uk

Homesnow

Christian and secondly as a member of a political party. Government should be about pursuing the common good, providing social infrastructure, securing equality and optimising freedom.

It's not that people are indifferent to the important political issues of the day, far from it, but they are disaffected with politicians and the political process. They feel jilted.

And the question we need to ask is not so much who chose these chosen few but what should we realistically expect from politics?

George Irving
Sycamore Field, Harlow

Retiring councillor will be missed

SIR, I was saddened to hear of the retirement of councillor Lorna Spenceley. As a former vice-chairman of Harlow Conservative Association and deputy leader of Harlow Council's Conservative group, I would like to pay my own personal tribute. Politics aside, Lorna was someone who made me feel incredibly welcome when I joined the council. She never disrespected my age and encouraged me to participate. In the early years of my own council career she became something of a mentor to me and the warmth, kindness and support she showed me was something not in abundance in the dicey terrain of Harlow politics.

For almost 20 years she served her constituents and the whole of the town with skill, diligence and passion, never forgetting it was the people who had elected her and it was them she was to serve.

We had many political disagreements, most notably over the expansion of the Harlow Lawn Tennis Club, but even in this most fractious time between us she was always courteous, kept me informed of developments and actively sought solutions to a difficult problem.

Despite the turmoil, the disagreements, the good and the bad, Lorna has unstintingly followed through on the commitment she made to the people of the town to improve things and has always retained honesty and credibility. She will be a great loss to the town, both as a politician and a resident. She was often termed as the Mrs Thatcher of Harlow, something I reminded her of constantly because I knew how much it irritated her!

I thank her for all the help, advice and humour she has provided me with over the years and wish her all the very best for her future endeavours.

Labour jobs should go to local people

SIR, I see the Labour Party has opened up a new campaign centre in Harlow (Star, March 11).

I would assume such a centre would be staffed by around 10-20 full time employees. My only question is, how many of these staff actually come from Harlow?

Slightly ironic it seems that it was put here as a show of support from the national party to Bill Rammell but they didn't consider Harlow residents (or Harlow's large number of NEETS and unemployed) when it came to distribution of the jobs.

Still, I'm sure Mr Rammell will claim to be working for the benefit of his residents and not to line his own pockets.

Held to ransom by power of unions

SIR, With the BA strikes looming ever closer, I am sure there are many Harlow residents who are worried about their already planned holiday being ruined by union action.

I, for one, am fed up with being held to ransom by the unions, a feeling I know I share with many others.

We all know our MP is more than happy to bend over backwards to accommodate his union buddies. You just have to look at how he acted over the college restructuring to see that.

We cannot be led by the unions any longer. We live in a consumer driven market, not a worker driven one. They had better realise that before Labour lose any votes they have left.

This town's litter problem is no joke

SIR, It is at this time of year when the full horror of the litter problem in Harlow is revealed.

Walk or cycle along any of the beautiful network of routes through the town and your eyes will be constantly assaulted by unending litter, most noticeable in winter and early spring when the hedgerows are bare. Regular clearance by council teams brings only temporary respite from the nuisance.

Meanwhile, in the grounds of major establishments such as schools, the college and the hospital, the litter is on full view to the public and never gets removed. Indeed, some of it is now so old I was thinking of applying to English Heritage to see if the litter in the north-east corner of the Passmores School site could be listed!

Sadly, it is no joke. So come on all you councillors, school and college heads, hospital managers, get out of your cosy offices and go and see for yourself the eyesore that we have to put up with day after day and then do something about it.

A waste of Times

SIR, I would like to inform Harlow residents through the Star that their local council isn't taking too much care when it comes to spending its money.

I live in Roydon, which comes under Epping Forest District Council, and once again Harlow Council has seen fit to circulate to Roydon residents a copy of its glossy Harlow Times magazine.

I dread to think how much money Harlow has wasted in informing Roydon residents about such useful things as Harlow's zero council tax rise, information on recycling in Harlow and rent increases for Harlow tenants etc.

Perhaps somebody at Harlow Council would like to try and justify why it sees fit to send Roydon all this seemingly useless information?

Rat-run madness

SIR, From what planet have the motorists using Potter Street as a rat-run to avoid the A414 roadworks landed? Obviously one where they have no roundabouts, zebra crossings or speed limits.

Potter Street is becoming a death trap. These motorists appear not to know the Highway Code rules for use of a roundabout, are not adhering to the speed limit and have actually carried on over the crossing whilst it was in use by pedestrians.

Traders facing waste penalty get a reprieve

By DAN PHILLIPS

daniel.phillips@hertsexnews.co.uk

HARLOW Council has backed down over plans to issue "crippling" waste fines on businesses in one of Harlow's neighbourhood shopping centres.

Environment officers had visited shops at The Stow, pictured right, and demanded to see two years' worth of paperwork about their arrangements for the disposal of waste.

Business owners said they were given until today (Thursday) to produce the paperwork or pay a £300 penalty. The fine could go up to £5,000 if challenged in court.

One businessman, who asked to remain anonymous, said he had never been asked for records before, despite the requirement originating in legislation dating back to the 1990s.

"We have not had any warning about this and yet there is absolutely no movement or flexibility," he said. "A £300 fine to a small business is absolutely crippling – and all for not keeping a couple of bits of paper saying that we get rid of our waste the right way."

"I don't have an audit trail," he said. "I've told them this but they said I needed waste transit notes for two years."

Local Liberal Democrat councillor Robert Thurston told the Star: "Many of these businesses told me they were disposing of the waste properly and could have had these notices but didn't know they needed them."

"Now it's not possible to get them for two years ago. We all want businesses to follow the rules but we also expect a bit of leniency from the council."

However, the council has now softened its hardline approach after being told of the traders' concerns by the Star.

Councillor Tony Hall, chairman of the council's environment and community committee, said: "We started carrying out these checks in the last two weeks to ensure businesses are complying with their waste responsibilities under the Environmental Protection Act.

"However, due to a widespread lack of knowledge we have decided to carry out an education and awareness programme across the town over the next few weeks."

He said formal checks will resume in six months time for most small businesses.

Until then the council will focus on businesses already aware of the regulations, producing certain types of waste or working on a national scale.

Smoker pays a heavy penalty for dropping cigarette in street

LITTERBUGS have been warned they could pay a heavy penalty after a man who dropped a cigarette butt in the street was fined £350 and ordered to pay £300 in costs.

Damon Ellis, from Stanford-Le-Hope, was caught by a Harlow Council clean neighbourhood enforcement officer throwing down his cigarette in High Street, Old Harlow, in December.

He made no attempt to pick it up and was issued a fixed penalty notice of £80. But when the penalty was not paid the matter was taken to court and earlier this month magistrates fined Mr Ellis, who did not attend the hearing, £350.

The court also ordered him to pay £300 in costs and a £15 victim surcharge.

Tony Hall, chairman of the council's environment and community committee, said: "We will take action against anyone making our town look untidy by littering. In this particular case the act was caught by one of our enforcement officers and has proved very costly for this smoker."

"Cigarette butts can be extremely difficult to clear up and this costs both time and council taxpayers' money. Dropping a cigarette butt is not a petty act as it contributes hugely to the amount of litter on our streets."

"We want to change the image of our town and changing attitudes to litter is an important part of this."

Care home given five star rating for food hygiene

A CARE home for people with learning disabilities has been given an 'excellent' rating for food hygiene.

Livingstone House, in Potter Street, received the highest possible five-star mark following an inspection by Harlow Council.

The home for 19 adults with learning disabilities received the award from an environmental health officer as part of the council's Scores on the Doors food hygiene scheme.

Deputy manager Clare

Walker said: "We are over the moon to have received the highest possible rating in the Scores on the Doors scheme."

"We pride ourselves on providing our residents with excellent accommodation and the highest standards of care and support so this score is testament to the hard work of our dedicated team."

The five star rating is awarded to premises that show high standards of compliance with statutory obligations and food safety management.

TELEVISION companies are hoping to cash in on the popularity of 3D films by introducing the technology into our living rooms.

Films like Avatar, Up and Alice in Wonderland have proved to be big hits with cinema audiences worldwide, prompting electronics firms to pour their money into developing affordable 3D television sets.

One company will launch its first batch of 3D TVs in Japan in the next few weeks while another plans to start selling its own sets in the UK within a few months. But they are not going to be cheap. The launch models are set to cost a whopping £3,000 each – double the current price of a top-of-the-range HD flatscreen telly.

A new TV won't be all you need to watch 3D programmes either. You'll have to wear special glasses similar to those given out in cinemas to be able to experience broadcasts in all their eye-popping glory.

Satellite service Sky has already said it will launch a dedicated 3D channel later this year which will show films and some sports, including Premier League football. And the BBC recently announced that it is hoping to film parts of the London 2012 Olympics in 3D too.

The day when 'little' Harlow won a place in FA Cup history

By DAN PHILLIPS
daniel.phillips@hertsessexnews.co.uk

THE romance of the FA Cup is something that brings bring a smile to any football fan. The third round giant killings by minnows from the lower divisions are the stuff of legend.

But Nostalgia readers with long memories will know that once "little Harlow Town" - as it was referred to in the national press at the time - caused a sensation of its own.

Back in the winter of 1980 the Berger Isthmian League side knocked out Leicester City in a third round replay in Harlow. The result made the headlines as City were in the old Second Division, then the second tier of English football.

The Daily Mirror match report said: "This Cup-crazy Essex town woke up today with a gigantic headache from the celebrations that continued long into the night."

A crowd of 9,723 went wild with delight when John Mackenzie, a 25-year-old company accountant, fired home the winning strike. The 42nd minute goal came from a Micky Mann free kick which City's Dennis Rolfe failed to clear, allowing Mackenzie to score with a sweeping shot.

The game finished 1-0 and the home fans swamped the pitch to celebrate the result. Harlow put in a confident performance, winning the plaudits of the football writers.

One said: "This was no fluke giant killing performance. Harlow looked the classier side and could easily have added to their score in the second half."

Afterwards, goal hero Mackenzie said: "I've never known anything like this before in my career. Who is going to stop us now? My goal seemed to take ages to go in but once we had scored I knew we would win."

Harlow manager Ian Wolstenholme said: "Our crowd frightened them to death. I knew we were in with a chance. I told the lads that if they believed they could win, then they would win."

"It's unbelievable what we've achieved. There were 2,000 clubs when we started. Now, 10 games later, we are in the last 32."

Former England striker and BBC TV football presenter Gary Lineker began his professional career at the midlands club in the early 1980s. But resident Ron Hornsey, who brought the win to the attention of the Nostalgia desk, could not recall if he played on the day.

In the next round Harlow were knocked out by Watford, but the memories of that famous win live on.

● Do you remember that glorious day? Were you in the crowd? Send your memories or pictures to Nostalgia, Harlow Star, 6 West Gate, Harlow, CM20 1JW or email daniel.phillips@hertsessexnews.co.uk

NOSTALGIA UPDATE: Burnt Mill Station

In the glory days of train travel the railway industry could provide a varied and colourful career for youngsters taking their first steps in the world of work. One such lad was George Ding, pictured above, who followed his father onto the railways by becoming a goods porter at Harlow Mill station at the age of 14.

During the Depression he was sent to Whitmore to work in the goods shed before returning to Harlow in the early 1930s and then on to the former Burnt Mill station.

There he worked as a passenger porter until the outbreak of the Second World War when he became a relief driver, shuttling between London stations.

In 1944, he became a motor driver at Burnt Mill where he used to collect milk from farms in the area which was then sent to Tottenham for Express Dairies.

After the war George became a signalman working in Picketts Lock, Roydon and Enfield Town until his health meant he could no longer work in signal boxes.

He worked as a ticket collector until his retirement in 1974. His son Patrick followed him into the railways, too.

25 years ago . . .

Racial harmony move

Ethnic groups have been invited to a meeting at the Town Hall to discuss setting up a community relations council in Harlow. It is hoped that the council could help eliminate racial harassment.

Actor Bill's star turn

Competitors and an audience at a senior citizens' talent contest were treated to a star turn by Bill Pertwee, the actor who played the part of air raid warden Mr Hodges in the comedy series Dad's Army. He turned up to help judge the competition at the Odeon.

Swim pool reopens

Harlow Council is promising that the reopening of the town swimming pool after 18 months will create a real splash, with new equipment and special swimming sessions. The pool has been closed for a £715,000 renovation.

Art gallery to close

John Graham Fine Arts Studio in The Rows is to put on its last picture show entitled Retrospective 1945-85. Mr Graham has been forced out by a large rent increase after 29 successful exhibitions in two years.

Leading the way...

STAFF and volunteers at St Clare Hospice have already signed up to take part in this year's Star-backed Midnight Walk.

Among the first are the hospice's day therapy team who were among the hundreds of people at last year's event.

Team manager Beth Burton said: "We were proud to take part in the Midnight Walk last year. We were overwhelmed and very humbled by the number of people taking part to ultimately help us care for local people.

"The range of services we offer at St Clare allows us to support patients and their families throughout their diagnosis, but we can only do this with the support of the local community at events like this.

"We sincerely thank everyone who takes part in the event and, as a clinical team, we are once again looking forward to joining in the fun again this year!"

This year St Clare is celebrating 20 years of providing care to the local community and so the Midnight Walk organisers are hoping to get 2,000 people to take part in the 10km walk round Harlow on Saturday, June 19. The aim is to raise £140,000.

To take part you must be 14 or over.

The cost of registration is £15 and you can do so in one of four ways – online, by email, by post or by telephone.

St Clare Hospice provides free-of-charge care for everyone over 18 living with a life-limiting illness such as cancer. It provides physical, social, spiritual and psychological care for hundreds of patients every year and also supports their family and friends, but to do so it must raise around £4,000 every day as only 30 per cent of its funding comes from the NHS.

That is why the Midnight Walk is so important and why we need as many Star readers to take part. The money raised through last year's Midnight Walk has paid for over five weeks of round-the-clock in-patient care for eight patients at any one time.

Events fundraiser Tracy Meale said: "With one in three people diagnosed with cancer in this country and one in four dying from the disease, someone you know may have already benefited from our care or may need us in the future. Walk for them, walk for us or walk for fitness and fun!"

"We've been getting really excited at the hospice for the past few weeks with all the pink T-shirts, pink leaflets and pink bunny ears being delivered. We are encouraging everyone to wear fancy dress, something pink and funky and have a fun night out."

Why caring for a pet can be good for your health

ALMOST half of all UK households have a pet and, as a nation of pet lovers, it will come as no surprise to many of us that research shows pets are good for our health.

Apart from some of the more obvious health benefits of owning a pet – such as the exercise associated with dog walking – pets can play an important role in people's lives and are often referred to as one of the family.

As well as providing a constant source of enjoyment, friendship and fun, many pets thrive in a family and household environment. Scientific research testifies to this pet power and budgies, gerbils, rabbits, cats, dogs and fish all have their part to play. Contact with animals can bring real physiological and psychological benefits such as reducing stress, helping to prevent illness and allergies, lowering blood pressure, aiding recovery and boosting chances of survival after a life-threatening illness.

Although it can be expensive when you add up pet bills such as feeding and insurance, it can soon seem like a wise investment when you consider the fact that owning a pet could very likely add years to your life. Ensuring your pet is in tip top condition and well looked after is the very least you can do for them.

So if you're thinking about getting a pet or even if you're experienced in the field of pet care, here are a few top tips when it comes to taking care of your furry friends.

- Think carefully before getting a pet and learn about its special requirements.
- Ensure your pet is sociable and well trained.
- Provide a nutritious and well-balanced diet.
- Provide suitable housing and bedding.
- Clean up after your pet and worm it regularly.
- Protect against disease. Your vet can provide you with advice.
- Prevent unwanted litters and have your pet neutered when appropriate.
- Groom your pet regularly.
- Control your pet and ensure it is properly identified.
- Take out pet insurance for dogs, cats, rabbits and horses to cover against unexpected veterinary fees and third party liability.

Your stars with Patrick Arundell to guide you through the week ahead

Aries Mar 21-Apr 20
Your mind switches back on, and sharpens up. Anything delayed, can now pick up momentum. However, with the tiny but potent Pluto angling sharply to Mercury, don't expect everyone to simply bow to what you want. You may have to work hard to get people to see what you are trying to do, but avoid browbeating them, it'll be counter productive. Call now for more astral advice...

Libra Sept 24-Oct 23
You can begin this week rather restless. With the Sun then surging forwards into your relating sector, you may find yourself discussing your frustrations with someone close. However, with Pluto stressing your emotional zone, it would be easy to take any frustrations out on your nearest and dearest. Better still to listen to any wise advice you get. Call now for your love scope in full...

Taurus Apr 21-May 21
You enter a period when you may find yourself happier in your own company, or at least with those you know intimately. However, you may have to ward off a tendency to think the worst of people or situations. Your imagination can be strong, but it can also run wild, which you may need to marshal. You can also find yourself more sentimental this week. Call now for more cool. Call now for more...

Scorpio Oct 24-Nov 22
Nervous tension can be high. You may find yourself changing your mind about something important, which could leave those close to you baffled and confused. Or accept that life can be fluid and that not everything may feel as easy going as you'd like. Consider ways you can better organise your time and resources. Most of all, Scorpio, do try to stay cool. Call now for more...

Gemini May 22-Jun 21
The pace of life and social interaction is set to go up several notches, not that you'll mind Gemini, because this can turn out to be a purple patch for you. However, your zippy ruling planet Mercury does come under intense pressure from Pluto, suggesting that there can be some endings, as well as some new beginnings around some close friendships. Call your prediction line for more news...

Sagittarius Nov 23-Dec 21
If you're feeling tetchy, might part of the reason for this be that you're simply bored with the status quo? A Sagittarius needs life to be an ever changing vista. If yours has become dull, this is an ideal opportunity to take up new interests and hobbies and especially if they're active or mentally stimulating. In love, the temperature can crank up! Call your prediction line for your love scope...

Cancer Jun 22-Jul 23
You may be asked to take on a responsible role, this could be to do with a local society, club or committee or something more to do with your work. You may wonder whether you want the extra load or the perceived hassle, but then another side of you can relish the responsibility. If you are not tapping into your potential, why not give it a whirl? Call me now for your in-depth forecast...

Capricorn Dec 22-Jan 20
You could find yourself in a heated discussion, but the skill will be to know the issues that are worthy going head to head over, and those which are best ignored. If you're not careful, you could end up talking about a really contentious subject, and saying something you regret. If need be, withdraw from intense situations and gather your thoughts. Call now for your in-depth forecast...

Leo Jul 24-Aug 23
If you feel you have been spending too much time inside or involved in heavy business or lifestyle issues, this week is a perfect time to lighten up with Leo. As a Lion you may not have wings, but you can certainly find yourself travelling far and wide in search of new adventures. Yet there may be some things, gallingly which prove harder just to drop. Call now for more news and advice...

Aquarius Jan 21-Feb 19
An unusual idea of yours can finally get the green light. But money can be rather unpredictable. You can find yourself socializing with people close by, and this may reveal something you didn't know, which could be intriguing, but is someone trying to sow a seed of doubt in your mind, for their own purposes? You may also find yourself feeling wired up. Call now for more advice...

Virgo Aug 24-Sept 23
You might experience life or the people you come into contact with as being unpredictable. If you like plenty of surprises, that may suit you, if not, this can prove unsettling. Your love life could, in particular, see you deciding to make some sudden moves, and even some about turns. At a practical level, property and savings come into focus. Call me now for your love scope in full...

Pisces Feb 20-Mar 20
An attitude, relationship or job that's been dogging you may, with one final push, leave your life. Stay strong and be determined to achieve this. This may mean you will have to take the long way around an obstacle, but you can take comfort from sticking to what you believe in. Money and friends just don't mix very well this week, so do try to be cautious. Call for your financial scope...

Players' latest production is a work of ART

HARLOW'S longest-established drama group will take a wry look at consumerism, art and friendship when it unveils an eye-catching new production next Thursday.

Yasmina Reza's complex, award-winning comedy ART may not seem like an easy task for am-dram group Moot House Players to tackle, but chairman Geoff Leeds – who also stars in the production – is relishing the challenge.

"This is a thought-provoking debate about art, an exercise in serious acting, a funny and engaging play and promises to be a seriously good piece of theatre," he said. "Albert Finney, Tom Courtenay and Ken Scott are a hard act to follow, but we think we're in with a fighting chance."

Directed by MHP stalwart Tony Edwards, the play revolves around a far-reaching, philosophical debate between three friends with decidedly different opinions on a piece of abstract contemporary art.

"This, at times, dark comedy raises questions about art, friendship, consumerism and our need for the occasional white lie," said Tony.

ART will run at Moot Hall, The Stow, from Thursday, March 25 to Saturday March 27, with performances starting at 8pm. Tickets cost £8 (unwaged £6) and are available from the box office on (01279) 639170.

24-carat Porter is as good as gold

LUCY Porter treated Harlow Playhouse to a performance glistening with wit and charm.

Neatly avoiding the clunkiness that often taints themed comedy shows, the tiny Croydonite's style stands out because she never feels the need to lower the tone to gutter level, preferring jokes about home furnishings to those on bodily functions.

Her warm, honest manner put the Playhouse crowd at ease straight away as she jokingly arranged a late-night gathering at the Church Langley home of one of those in the audience and then appointed a cheerleader.

Accurate observations amplified the entertainment level and it was easy to identify with situations and characters under discussion.

The current obsession with "going minimalist" was ripped to shreds as one of Porter's friends lurched from stripping

LUCY PORTER'S FOOL'S GOLD
Harlow Playhouse

the plaster from her walls "to see the lovely brickwork" to cutting a hole in her ceiling. "You get so much natural light and the rain can just come in – very minimalist!"

The contrast of Americans sipping mineral water with the wonderfully British scene of after-work drinks leading to "* it, we'll have the day off!" drew the loudest laughter of the night.

In a brilliant finale to her performance, Porter told us that while the show was being written a jeweller found that a treasured bangle – which Porter had sported on her arm throughout – contained no gold whatsoever.

All of a sudden the title Fool's Gold began to make sense, although the audience had already been treated to the sight of the real thing earlier in the evening when £5 worth of edible gold leaf was fed to an apprehensive teenager. As the evening drew to a close, I surely wasn't the only one wishing that the after-show gathering in Church Langley could really have taken place.

>>CIRCUS The stomach-churning Circus of Horrors returns to The Playhouse tonight (Thursday) for an evening of blood-curdling thrills and spills. In a suitably shocking new show, voodoo acrobats, pickled people, bendy bodies, demon dwarves and flying vampires carry out some of the most grotesque, blood-curdling circus feats in the world. The show, which is not suitable for under 12s, starts at 8pm and tickets cost £17 (£14 concessions).

>>COMEDY Veteran stand-up comedian Arthur Smith comperes an evening of mirth and madness at The Playhouse on Saturday, featuring award-winning ventriloquist Nina Conti, razor-sharp Red Dwarf star Hattie Heyridge and political satirist and songwriter Steve Gribbin. The show starts at 8pm and tickets cost £15.

>>MUSIC Kiki Dee first shot to fame in the 1970s when Don't Go Breaking My Heart – her duet with Elton John – topped the charts on both sides of the Atlantic. The legendary songstress comes to The Playhouse on Sunday accompanied by guitarist Carmelo Luggeri for an intimate show featuring some of her best-known work. The show starts at 7pm and tickets cost £16.

>>MUSICAL Birds Of A Feather star Lesley Joseph heads up the cast of a outrageous new musical coming to The Playhouse on Wednesday. Hot Flush invites you to share in the hilarious ups and downs of a group of four girlfriends and promises to be the perfect girls' night out. Performances run for two nights at 8pm and tickets cost £18.

>>VARIETY The acclaimed Burnt Mill Performing Arts College hosts three nights of quality live entertainment at The Playhouse Studio from Wednesday as the school's talented youngsters sing, dance and rock their way through an exhilarating and eclectic repertoire. The show starts at 7.45pm and tickets cost £7.50 (£5 concessions).

HARLOW Theatre Company's 2010 season kicks off at Victoria Hall Theatre on Wednesday with a revival of one of the most popular plays of the 1940s – Patrick Hamilton's Gaslight.

Directed by Alan Jones, the psychological thriller follows lower middle-class housewife Bella Manningham as she slowly comes to realise her increasingly unstable husband Jack is harbouring a dark secret. "Although the play is grounded in its period, the themes of lust, avarice, cruelty and revenge are also, unfortunately, very contemporary," said Alan.

"This is really good old fashioned story telling – gripping, involving, absolutely riveting stuff." Alan is one of the company's most experienced directors. His previous work includes a brooding version of Daphne du Maurier's Rebecca and an adaptation of local playwright Simon Mawdsley's prison drama Painting by Numbers.

THRILLER: Lorraine De Oliveira, Jack Manningham and Jane Miles in Gaslight which is being staged by Harlow Theatre Company at the Victoria Hall Theatre next week

● Gaslight opens at the theatre in Bury Road, Old

Harlow, on Wednesday and runs until Saturday, March 27. Tickets cost £8 (£6 concessions Wednesday to Friday only) and can be booked on 07973 679364 or (01279) 420062.

ANDY Tennant, director of Sweet Home Alabama and Hitch, offers much more than a romantic comedy with this action chase caper starring Gerard Butler as a New York bounty hunter who is given the task of bringing in his bail jumping ex-wife.

While the tender moments of reminiscence that crop up between the bickering pair are predictable, there are plenty of surprises from the off.

Reporter Nicole Hurley (Jennifer Aniston) jumps bail to chase a lead on an exclusive news story but soon bounty hunter Milo Boyd (Butler) is hot on her clacking high heels.

The car chases and gun slinging through the sordid underbelly of Atlantic City give this film a suspense twist that is reminiscent of The Hangover, balancing out the cheesier moments where Butler and Aniston pause for breath and end up gazing longingly into one another's eyes.

THE BOUNTY HUNTER certificate 12A 1h50m

There are plenty of thrills from the action-packed plot and both stars impressively did all their own stunts. But despite the rumours that the two are now dating behind the scenes, sparks between them don't light up too often on-screen.

However, that does nothing to dull the excitement offered in the racy plot, thanks also to an excellent supporting cast.

There are glittering appearances from Mamma Mia's Christine Baranski as Nicole's cougar of a mother, and Curb Your Enthusiasm's Jeff Garlin as Sid, Milo's boss, while Saturday Night Live's Jason Sudeikis desperately tries to steal Nicole's heart and the spotlight as hapless hack Stewart. Butler's character is a booze-loving, gambling big lump of an ex-cop and he doesn't offer too much more in his performance, but Aniston and her glossy caramel locks make up for everything.

Aside from the frustration that her hair remains flawless throughout three days on the run, her performance as the feisty but funny leading lady is also lustrous. She dazzles almost as much as her glossy locks.

And thank goodness. Because with fellow rom-com queen Sandra Bullock taking up Oscar-winning serious acting, it's nice to know Aniston is not giving up her crown anytime soon.

Conman finds love behind bars

I LOVE YOU PHILLIP MORRIS certificate 15 1h35m

JIM Carrey delivers his best dramatic performance since Eternal Sunshine Of The Spotless Mind in this improbable but utterly incredible true story.

I Love You Phillip Morris charts the romance of two prison inmates and their subsequent journey of self-discovery on both sides of the bars.

Carrey generates smouldering screen chemistry with co-star Ewan McGregor, convincing us that undying love and a daredevil spirit can overcome anything.

Stephen Russell (Carrey) is a happily married police officer with a beautiful wife, Debbie (Leslie Mann), and young daughter. However, the family man has a secret: he is gay.

When he can no longer keep the secret, Stephen comes out to his wife and moves to Florida with boyfriend Jimmy (Rodrigo Santoro). The cost of living fabulously is perilously high and Stephen breaks the law to finance his lavish tastes.

The authorities eventually catch up with the swindler and sentence him to time in prison where he meets softly spoken Phillip Morris (McGregor). The attraction is instant and Stephen schemes to become his lover's cellmate.

When he finally gains parole, Stephen poses as a lawyer to get Phillip out of prison early, but once they are united on the outside the former con man struggles to mend his ways.

Phillip lands a high-profile position as chief financial officer at a large corporation, where the temptation to embezzle is irresistible.

>>>still on screen

>>>SHUTTER ISLAND The lunatics are taking over the asylum, or that's what Martin Scorsese's impeccably crafted psychological thriller would have us believe. Scorsese is all at sea on the Boston Harbor Islands and, for all its style, Shutter Island is a largely predictable and pedestrian yarn elevated by a superior cast, including Leonardo DiCaprio.

>>>HACHI: A DOG'S TALE Hollywood has enjoyed a long love affair with man's best friend, with the canine star often outshining the human actors. This is certainly true in this yarn, which pits Richard Gere and Joan Allen against the cutest of fluffy Akita puppies and an impeccably trained full-grown version. While many dog movies can be little more than a schmaltz-fest, director Lasse Hallstrom reins it in, keeping his meditation on love and everyday life just the right side of sentimental.

>>>ALICE IN WONDERLAND (3D & 2D) Based on a screenplay by Linda Woolverton, director Tim Burton's descent down the rabbit hole is a characteristically eye-catching and quixotic journey of self-discovery in a world where anything can, and probably will, happen. Mia Wasikowska plays a 19-year-old Alice, with Johnny Depp as her old friend, the Mad Hatter. The visuals are stunning, but the characterisation is weak and Depp's turn as the Mad Hatter is one bout of lunacy too far.

>>>PERCY JACKSON & THE LIGHTNING THIEF Chris Columbus directs the big-screen big budget version of the first of five books by Rick Riordan. High school student Percy Jackson (Logan Lerman) embarks on a quest to the underworld when he discovers he is the son of Poseidon (Kevin McKidd). Columbus doesn't let the effects overwhelm the storytelling, although it's more of a stretch than a squeeze to fill the rollicking two hours.

>>>THE PRINCESS AND THE FROG Disney breaks with tradition and casts its first ever African-American princess in this enchanting reworking of the Grimm brothers' fairytale, set in New Orleans around the time of the First World War. Tiana (voiced by Anika Noni Rose) is turned into a frog after kissing a smooth-talking amphibian, and has to embark on a perilous quest to get herself turned back into a human.

>>>kids' club

>>>ALIENS IN THE ATTIC Adventure/comedy about children on a family holiday who must fight off an attack by knee-high alien invaders with world-destroying ambitions. At the same time, the youngsters work hard to keep their parents in the dark about the battle upstairs.

>>>ICE AGE 3: DAWN OF THE DINOSAURS When Sid the sloth's attempt to adopt three dinosaur eggs gets him abducted by their real mother to an underground lost world, his friends attempt to rescue him.

>>>PLANET 51 The computer-animated comedy unfolds on a world far from ours where little green men, women and child live in domestic bliss. But the crash-landing of a dim-witted American astronaut (voiced by Dwayne "The Rock" Johnson) causes chaos.

Moat at Newhall, Harlow - South Chase phase two Newhall in Harlow, Essex is an exciting and award winning development that offers residents a combination of contemporary architecture and sustainable living. This imaginative development is the brainchild of the landowners, Jon and William Moen, who are lifelong local residents and founders of Newhall Projects Limited.

The design approach behind Newhall is focused on creating a vibrant community. Everything started with the masterplan, designed by Roger Evans Associates. Roger Evans Associates were also the project architects of this scheme. The design drew on lessons learnt from much admired historic towns, creating a new place that is above all else, wonderful to live in.

When complete, Newhall will create a centre point where the community can come together to eat, shop, drink, work, play or simply meet. Everything will be based upon an easy walk from every dwelling. A neighbourhood centre at the heart of the site will contain a selection of shops and businesses as well as healthcare and community facilities. There is to be a new primary school at Newhall and an existing secondary school is located less than 500m from the site.

Moat is delivering affordable housing within four phases of the Newhall development, North Chase, Abode, South Chase and Be. We have delivered 31 affordable homes across the development so far.

Homes at 'Be' use solar panels which help reduce residents' fuel costs and their carbon footprint. They are also fitted with smart meters so that homeowners can monitor their usage. Homes at South Chase are constructed off-site and incorporate hidden modular steel frames with a 200 year predicted life. This means that the houses are eco friendly and result in lower energy bills for residents.

Moat has a selection of one and two bedroom homes available at Southchase.

All homes are available on a New Build HomeBuy basis with shares available from just £42,000 for a 30% share. Each property includes white goods and carpets to support first time buyers into their new home and all the properties benefit from large windows which provide a light and airy feel. All the rooms are well proportioned and link very well.

For more information about the brand new homes available at South Chase, please contact Moat's sales and marketing team on 0845 359 6161 or at marketing@moat.co.uk.

Nissan launches new-look Qashqai

THE best-selling Nissan Qashqai has undergone a stylish update for the new '10' registration.

The most notable visual change is at the front, where a new bonnet, front bumper, wings, grille and headlamps combine to give the Qashqai an air of premium sophistication, presence and quality.

At the rear, the overall shape of the lights remains unchanged but they now include an aerodynamic feature to reduce drag.

Additionally, the brake and tail lights operate using 12 LEDs for maximum clarity. Two new exterior colour options have also been added: Magnetic Red and Mineral Grey. Both complement the philosophy of added sophistication that runs through the overall restyling. Inside, the Qashqai features a new design to the main dials which give added clarity and legibility.

A redesigned drive computer is positioned between the two dials. Its white LCD screen shows instantaneous and average fuel consumption, mileage, time, cruise control and speed limiter settings among others, providing the driver with an easy-to-understand interface.

Life on board the Qashqai has been made even more comfortable thanks to improved protection against noise, vibration and harshness. This has been achieved by adding an all-new multi-layer insulation material around the front bulkhead, as well as the fitment of an acoustic windscreen which reduces the transmission of noise.

One of the most significant changes to the range is the addition of a new Pure Drive variant. Wearing the badge reserved only for the Nissan models with the most environmentally efficient economy and emissions, this special Qashqai produces only 129g/km of CO₂

Prices remain highly competitive. Complete with its new styling and dynamic enhancements, the entry-level model costs £15,395 while ownership of a diesel powered Qashqai is available from £16,795.

ESP is now fitted as standard across the range, adding to the model's reassuring safety equipment. The specification of Acenta grade and above has now been enhanced with the inclusion of a standard speed limiter, while the top Tekna grade gains a Bose speaker system.

The new Qashqai was unveiled at a recent weekend close up event designed by Nissan, which took place at all 11 Glyn Hopkin Nissan dealerships. The event celebrated the Nissan design ethic manifested in the latest Qashqai and other new-for-2010 Nissan models including the CUBE and 370Z Roadster. Stuart Hodson, Nissan brand director at Glyn Hopkin, said: "We are delighted with the arrival of the new Qashqai as it offers a great alternative to the traditional hatchback or compact SUV."

"The new model received a great response from customers at the recent close up event and the car looks set to help Nissan reinforce its position as an innovator in the car market."

To arrange a test drive or to find out more, call Glyn Hopkin's head office on (01708) 737999 or visit www.glynhopkin.com for details of your nearest dealership.

Hawks eye top three finish after triumph

HARLOW Hawks could still finish third in division one of the Hertfordshire Basketball League after they beat Herts Warriors 90-80 at home in their last league game on Friday.

Hawks need leaders Luton Fliers to beat Ware Jokers next weekend to come third.

This would secure home advantage in the quarter-finals of the league play-offs.

Hawks player-coach Shab Niaz said: "We have finished the season strongly and have come through with close wins that showed some character."

"If we repeat the performances of the last few games then we will give ourselves a chance in the league play-offs."

Niaz scored four three-pointers and Harlow had a 32-20 lead going into the second quarter.

The hosts' lead was cut to 50-41 at the halfway stage but in the third quarter better defence plus scores from Paul Jessop, Mark Haddow and Shab Niaz kept Harlow ahead.

Hawks went on to secure a 10-point win. HARLOW HAWKS: S. Niaz (23 pts), Jessop (14), Hinds (13), Haddow (12), Moss (9), Norkielunas (8), Allan (6), Spashett (5), Z. Niaz.

Brilliance from Bethell

JARED Bethell ran a superb race to come 10th from 5,700 finishers at the Adidas Silverstone Half Marathon.

The Harlow Running Club member clocked one hour, 19 minutes and 20 seconds in the race at the historic Silverstone F1 motor racing circuit in Northamptonshire.

Dionne Jones was the first Harlow lady finisher with an excellent time of 1:38.37.

In the women's wheelchair race Harlow's Anne Wafala-Strike finished in a fantastic second place.

In the men's wheelchair race, Dean Harvey (20) did extremely to come 10th.

Other Harlow RC results: Andy Terrell (1:30.40); John Bull (1:35.07); Grahame Thomas (1:37.28); Wendy Spring (2:04.56); Susan Morley (2:19.46); Susan Dewen (2:10.45); PB, Linda Hawkins (2:18.01).

● BURNT Mill School student Sophie Fuhr (16) added an Inter Counties title to her Essex one earlier this year when she won the U-17 400m with a PB of 60.79s at Lee Valley. She is now fifth in the UK for her age group.

Harlow's Tyler Bown (15) excelled on his Essex debut, claiming a PB of 53.5s in the U-17 boys 400m for 2nd in the B-string event.

James Palmer won his first Essex vest and was 3rd in the U-17 boys A-string shot put with a PB of 10.38m.

Amelia Barrett (13) was 124th (12:29) out of 320 in the U-13 girls 3km, helping Essex claim an emphatic victory in her age group.

Ladies in stalemate

HARLOW picked up only two points as they were held to draws in two weekend matches in the Essex Women's Hockey League premier division.

There was a 2-2 draw at basement side Brentwood II on Saturday before a 3-3 home stalemate against Basildon II on Sunday.

Harlow remain third, one point behind second-placed Croxtly.

Anna Ferdinando put Harlow ahead inside two minutes when her shot deceived the Brentwood keeper.

After the break, Brentwood levelled from a penalty flick.

The umpires then controversially awarded a penalty corner to the hosts, which they converted to go 2-1 up.

However, Harlow pinched a point when Carolyn Rushton came off the bench to convert a trade-mark penalty corner routine with three minutes remaining.

Captain Emma Tweddle (2) and Georgia Esterhuysen netted against mid-table Basildon on Sunday.

● HARLOW were thrashed 7-1 at Chelmsford IV in the East Men's Hockey League division four SE.

Not a 'Bridge too far

Cont'd from back

Steve McNamara, a defender signed from Chertsey Town, came on for his Hawks debut when he replaced Chapman on 89 minutes.

Bowen ready to Rock!

Cont'd from back

"It's great to be riding again. My hope is to stay injury free and improve my average," said Bowen.

"I thought I did pretty well last season, and I'm looking to do even better this time around."

Despite feeling under the weather with a stomach bug, the former Mark Hall School student still managed to take to the Rye House track for a number of laps during Monday's press and practice day.

Bowen enjoyed a tremendous 2009 and was named 'Mr Rocket' Rider of the Year for a second successive time after netting an impressive 6.97 average – with a much improved 5.05 away record.

Rockets promoter Len Silver said of Bowen: "The Mr Rocket title means somebody has ridden his heart out, who has improved in a way that represents what Rye House is, and nobody does that better than Luke."

Silver summed up the mood of confidence in the Rockets camp ahead of the new campaign: "I think, we've got every chance of getting some silverware this season at both Premier League and National League levels – but of course we need to avoid injuries."

Admiral gap at top wider

WHITE Admiral's lead at the top of the Harlow & District Premier Darts League was extended to 11 points with a 7-1 win over United Glass.

Second-placed Servo Link beat TG Foxes 6-2.

Admiral's Andy Hentall, UG's Brian Sontag, Link's Dicky Foster and Foxes' Colin Brown all hit 180s.

Third-placed Young Pretenders shared the points 4-4 with ST Colts. Pretenders' Alex Hogg notched his 5th 180 of the campaign.

Other results: TG Whites 6, Moot House 2; Moot House 5, Harlow Hawks 3; Stow Snooker 5, The Crusader 3; Golden Swift 4, Colt Hatch Colts 4.

Young Rams wrap up Essex League title with excellent victory

IT was celebration time for Harlow Rugby Club's U-15 team when they won 14-5 at lowly Upminster to capture the Essex League division three title.

Harlow took an early lead on Sunday when a flowing, passing move phase culminated in James O'Hanlon scoring a 10th-minute try converted by Josh Davies.

The home side bounced back with an unconverted try on 15 minutes and Harlow led 7-5 at the break.

From the restart, the visitors attacked again and extended their lead.

This time it was Kurtis Knightley who beat two defenders and scored. Davies kicked the conversion.

Harlow kept their lead until the end and were unlucky not to add to their score.

Harlow manager Kevin Ellis said: "We are very proud of the team and they have played very well. They have not lost a game in the league and deserve to win the title."

HARLOW U-15 (squad): Foley, Bailey, Channaoui (capt), Doe, O'Hanlon, Newborough, Handscomb, Lane, McMaster, Davies, Healy, Alger, Knightley, Mansfield, Birchman, Boswell-Banks, Norris, Brown, Ramsey. Other results: Harlow U-16 32, Datchworth U-16 22.

Harlow U-14 20 (try scorers – Scott Whitby, Mitchell Sinfield, Rhys Davies, Tom Cunningham), Hertford U-14s 24.

Harlow U-13s 10 (try scorers Alfie Clark, Jack Christy), Westcliff 15.

Chapman sees red as Hawks go down

Harlow Tn 0, Tilbury 2

Ryman League division one north

By FARHAN AHMED

A CONTROVERSIAL second-half penalty helped Tilbury overcome Harlow Town 2-0 after a scrappy encounter at Barrows Farm.

Referee Mark Mellor took centre stage, sending off Hawks defender Danny Chapman for two bookable offences, both for dissent.

Substitute Bradley Barnes slotted home the subsequent spot-kick, giving Tilbury a 55th-minute two-goal advantage that Harlow never looked like recovering.

Harlow started brightly, a fluid passing move ended with Tilbury keeper Andy Hall parrying a fierce Spencer Knight drive into the path of striker Emmanuel Osei – who tucked in but this effort was flagged offside.

Against the run of play, the visitors took the lead on nine minutes following a poorly defended free-kick on the left. The impressive Lee Hodges found Chris Taylor who beat his marker to flick in at the near post.

Harlow found plenty of joy down their left flank. Debutant left-back Michael Haswell sent over two dangerous crosses in the space of two minutes, but Osei was unable to connect with either.

Despite sporadic Harlow pressure, it was Tilbury who came closest to

JOY AND PAIN: Emmanuel Osei wheels away after putting the ball in the net against Tilbury but this effort was ruled out for offside (HSP0634460) scoring next. A terrific back-heel by Jarred Small sent striker Ben Bradbury clear, his effort hitting a post with just the keeper to beat on 35 minutes.

With the game still in the balance, Harlow suffered a sucker punch when Chapman conceded a penalty for a push on Wheeler, a harsh decision made worse by the defender's subsequent dismissal.

Harlow skipper Lee Protheroe was also booked for dissent in this incident.

Barnes, who had replaced the injured Joe Keith in the first half, placed the kick down the middle to score Tilbury's second.

Despite their numerical disadvantage the home side pressed, but gave the ball away too often. Substitute Mark Taylor wasted the best chance from a free-kick just outside Tilbury's penalty area.

Harlow caretaker boss Tommy Cunningham sent on experienced front-men James Bunn and Julian Edwards on 62 minutes but the hosts struggled to fashion any chances to find a way back into the match.

The game ended 10 against 10, with Tilbury substitute Joel Barnett shown a straight red for a shocking two-footed challenge on Liam Thomas.

Hawks assistant boss Kevin Warren fumed: "We never turned up. We were very confident we could get something from the game, but we didn't match them physically."

He added: "The sending off didn't help us. With Chapman gone, we were chasing the game."

HARLOW TN: Hasell, Protheroe, Haswell, Chapman, Thomas, Gliddon, Hayes (Taylor 56), Manuella, Osei (Bunn 62), Dobson (Edwards 62), Knight. Subs not used: Horton (gk), Scott.

THE Rams will need to win at least two of their three remaining games to have a good chance of a top-half finish.

Harlow fought hard before losing at second-placed Sudbury and last Saturday's defeat saw them drop one place to 7th spot in the 12-team table.

From the start Harlow made good use of their mobile pack to keep Sudbury pegged back in their own half.

A drive by the Rams pack allowed Kain Claridge to touch down an 11th-minute unconverted try.

Harlow had the edge for the next 10 minutes before a Sudbury break saw a winger burst clear only to be brought down by a hard low tackle by Lee Harron.

However, Sudbury scored a well-worked converted try in the corner on the half-hour mark.

Two minutes before the interval, Rams' fly-half Danny Smith missed a chance to put his side ahead when he sliced a penalty at goal wide.

Sudbury led 7-5 at half-time.

The Harlow pack held their own in the early stages of the second half but pressure from the visitors told with an unconverted try in the corner on 58 minutes.

On the hour mark, another break by the Sudbury backs saw them out-pace the Harlow defence and their full-back came into the line to run in a try.

The conversion was just wide but Harlow trailed by 12 points.

In the last quarter, Harlow battled hard and Sudbury resisted several attacks on their line.

Smith just missed with a long-range penalty which drifted just wide of the posts shortly before the end.

HARLOW: Banks, Grimley, L. Bowering, McFerran, Vanbeck (Mackie 60), Smith, Harron, Lane (Treacher 68), Wilkins, Prindiville, Palmer (Blackwell 65), Eynon, Romaine, M. Bowering, Claridge.

Marvin mistake

Cont'd from back Cunningham, 54, took over as caretaker boss a fortnight ago.

Harlow have since beaten VCD Athletic and Redbridge.

Cunningham previously managed Hawks in the mid-2000s before taking up the role of director of football.

The former Leyton Orient defender will not shy away from appointing another inexperienced boss, despite Bothwell's comments.

But he is expected to remain in charge for the remaining nine games.

Cunningham gave former Aldershot and Doncaster centre-half Ryan Kirby his first role in management.

If Cunningham decides his work commitments are too much to manage the team in the long term, he could look to bring back Kirby or give Lee Protheroe his first full-time shot in management.

Seb eyes Worlds

POWERLIFTER Sebastian Wajncntel is eyeing the World Championships in November after smashing the British Powerlifting Organisation's record of 245kgs by 40 kilos with a lift of 285kgs at the Welsh and English qualifiers last weekend.

Sebastian (34), from Harlow, trains at and is sponsored by Ripped Gym at The Stow.

Sebastian lifted 230kgs (unassisted) 270kgs (assisted) and finally 285kgs (assisted).

These qualified him for the British Championships.

Owner of Ripped Gym Michelle Meade said: "We are honoured to have such a talent training at our gym, he is phenomenally strong and a great guy. We are looking forward to having a world champion in our camp."

Defeat for HSC

HARLOW Squash Club second team lost 3-2 at home to Letchworth in division five of the Hertfordshire League.

Richard Lewis and Keeley Peacock were Harlow's only successful players.

Hawks' Marvin mistake

FORMER Hawks chairman Jeff Bothwell, right, believes the football club were wrong to appoint fans favourite Marvin Samuel in the first place! Samuel (35) returned in November to manage his beloved Hawks – only to be sacked by new owner Tommy Cunningham 15 days ago when the side procured just four points from his 12-game spell in charge. It was Samuel's first role in management. He had replaced another rookie boss in the shape of Anthony Anstead. Mr Bothwell, still on the board at Barrows Farm with 10 per cent of the club's shares, said: "Despite bad luck, Marvin had ample time to make an impact. I believe Marvin only took the position because of the lack of interest from anybody else and his passion for the football club and supporters. "I felt and still do feel that it was a position that would have been better suited for an individual with more experience." "However, I would have taken every step to entice him to get involved with the club albeit in a different capacity." "I wish Marvin much success in whatever direction he decides to take." >> Cont'd on 79

Heartache for Osagie

Rising star just misses out on World Champs final

ANDREW Osagie was left wondering what might have been after almost upstaging Olympic silver medallist Ismail Ahmed Ismail at the World Indoor Championships in Doha, Qatar.

The 22-year-old from Northbrook, Harlow, began his campaign with a bang by storming through his opening 800m heat in a personal best time of 1 min 47.40 seconds inside the Aspire Dome.

Needing to finish in the top three in his semi-final to make the medal showdown, Osagie held off the Sudanese runner all the way until the final stride – losing out by the width of his GB vest.

And after beating his legs in frustration on the finish line, the Harlow Athletic Club member admitted he thought he had done enough to make the final.

"I knew he [Ismail] was going to come through like a train at the end but I was holding him and holding him right to the end," said Osagie, right, who clocked 1:51.29 – 0.04 seconds slower than Ismail.

"If you had offered me a semi-final place before I came out I would have snapped your hand off but now I'm so frustrated not to be in the final.

"I put myself in that position because I ran the inside line, but I'm happy running that line.

"It means you can't go round people but I stuck at it and although the start was slow the last 150m was just a mad dash.

"Ismail is a real world class athlete so I can't complain because the best three go through at the end of the day but I really thought I had him."

The 2010 UK 800m indoor champion added: "I hope it's going to be a busy year and if I stay injury free I would love to be going to both the Commonwealth Games and the European Championships."

The Commonwealth Games takes place in Delhi, India, this August.

Osagie is a member of double Olympic gold medallist Dame Kelly Holmes' 'On Camp With Kelly' mentoring programme.

Dame Kelly said: "Andrew should be proud of what he has achieved at the World Indoors on his senior GB debut.

"Not only has he come away with a personal best, he has shown that he can compete with the world's best. He will have learnt a huge amount from the experience that will help him as his career progresses."

Survival is NOT a 'Bridge too far for Town!

Redbridge 0
Harlow Tn 3
Ryman League, division one north

THE Hawks know that if they beat third from bottom Leyton and win their game in hand they will be just FIVE points from safety.

After a season that has offered plenty of doom and gloom, suddenly there is light at the end of a dark tunnel.

Tuesday's win over Redbridge was Harlow Town's second in their last three games.

Harlow's biggest win of the season came despite the absence of new skipper back for Lee Protheroe (on a coaching course). Mark Taylor come in at right-back, while new signing Michael Haswell was switched to left midfield.

Redbridge had the edge in the first half and Charlie Georgiou just nodded over a corner from Andy Edmunds on 21 minutes.

On 35 minutes, Jack West was booked for a fierce challenge on Hawks defender Liam Thomas.

Harlow went ahead on 41 minutes after neat work from Shaun Gliddon and Emmanuel Osei ended with the former firing home from 15 yards.

The lead was doubled in spectacular fashion on 50 minutes. Osei was unable to control the ball and it fell loose for Reece Dobson to drill in an unstoppable 30-yard shot.

Seven minutes later, Hawks keeper James Hasell tipped over an Alf Dickens header from a Bobby Port free-kick.

Hawks substitute James

Bunn missed two chances on 71 and 79 minutes, while Redbridge's Matt Gillingham wasted a good opportunity on 88 minutes.

Julian Edwards also spurned a chance in injury time before he scored Harlow's third goal less than 60 seconds later.

A Thomas header found Edwards just inside the Redbridge half and he zipped forward and fired past keeper James Marrable.
